Product safety – GPRS

Thank you for your interest in our products. As a manufacturer and importer, we have been giving priority to the safety of our customers for 15 years and comply with all applicable regulations regarding the safety of products introduced to the European Union market. For this purpose, we monitor the quality of imported raw materials by analyzing the chemical compositions of the materials used. For this purpose, we cooperate with accredited laboratories.

Description of our products

A full description of our products is available on our website www.odblaski.net.pl on the subpage <https://odblaski.net.pl/oferta/>, where they are divided into groups thematically. We present product photos, dimensions, physical features and applications.

Regulatory compliance

Our products meet the requirements of the EU General Product Safety Regulation (GPRS). In particular, the textiles we use are free of hazardous chemicals, and the foils used in production do not contain harmful elements that may pose a threat.

The inks we use for printing are checked, and safety data sheets for hazardous substances are archived and available at the customer's request.

Regulatory compliance

The products we offer are designed to be completely safe to use. In the 15-year history of the company, there has not been a single accident caused by our product. We do not use flammable materials.

However, be careful in case:

- unusual use (e.g. consumption by children),
- handling the edges of some products carelessly, not handling them near the eyes.

Security statement

We ensure that all products have undergone appropriate internal testing to ensure their safety under typical conditions of use.
